Evangelization - Closer to God

Recently a young man, not too closely connected with the Church, remarked, “Evangelization: isn’t that where people come closer to God?” What an apt description of its true meaning. The goal of evangelization is to build a deeper relationship between God and those who know God in varying degrees: the active, inactive, our youth, or an alienated Catholic. We have the power and responsibility to introduce God to those who may have not identified their unique experiences, the unchurched, with the Creator of the Universe and the Savior of the World.
